

INVITATION

PRoF Award 2018 - Medical Innovation Chair UGent

Wednesday, May 16th at 17:30

KBC Artevelde Tower, Kortrijksesteenweg 1100, 9000 Ghent

Ghent University is always looking for innovative projects in the broad domain of healthcare applications and therefore the PRoF Chair Award competition is again organized in 2018.

Prof. dr. Renaat Peleman, Chief Medical Officer of the Ghent University Hospital and first PRoF Chairholder of Ghent University, invites you exclusively for the announcement of the PRoF-Award-Nominees, followed by the official proclamation of the PRoF-Award-Winner 2018 by the Jury, presided by the former President of the European Union, Prof dr. Herman Van Rompuy. This exceptional moment is followed by a reception, in honor of the winner and the nominees.

The competition accepts all innovations created in the healthcare domain (medical, care, ageing society, etc.) specifically within the following areas:

- New concepts or theories in healthcare models (medical, care, ageing society)
- New insights regarding healthcare infrastructure (architecture and/or equipment)
- Innovating healthcare processes and/or procedures
- Innovating healthcare products and/or services

The Award Symposium takes place on May 16th, 2018 in KBC Artevelde Tower, Kortrijksesteenweg 1100, 9000 Ghent. Parking will be available at KBC.

The number of places is restricted. Entrance is free, but registration is required via: <https://goo.gl/forms/7IldZhBQptrYIISs2>
